

The customs sector is constantly evolving. Anticipating the future is our challenge: Andretto & Zanon, a company based in Verona, offers solutions and consultancy in the field of international import/export shipments, with particular regard to the fine arts sector and customs operations, providing a completely personalised service and a dynamic, flexible approach to meet any type of request.

We are a family company, in which the human factor and technological innovation go hand-in-hand. A direct line of communication is constantly kept open between Andretto & Zanon and its clients. Personal contact still makes all the difference, including when dealing with the public administration: we become a single contact point for all customs requirements so that companies are finally free to concentrate on their businesses.

Our experience in the sector has enabled us over time to develop of solid network of international contacts, in order to give companies the chance to break through the formalities with the help of a team of specialised skilled professionals, able to provide a rapid, meticulous service.

What may seem like obstacles become new opportunities for us.
